YOUR ADJUDICATOR

Thern Reynolds

Thern Reynolds had his stage debut at just 16 when he was part of the original Australian production and tour of 42nd Street, in which he understudied and performed the role of Billy Lawlor. He then travelled to Jupiters Casino for Live at The Roosevelt, choreographed by Ross Coleman. He then played Nibbles in West Side Story for the VSO, followed by appearances in Mack and Mabel in Concert and the role of Wing in Hot Shoe Shuffle for David Atkins Enterprises.

Since returning to Australia in 2004, Thern had the absolute pleasure of playing his most loved role to date, Joseph in Joseph and The Amazing Technicolor Dreamcoat. For something completely different, Thern headed to Cairns to open as the lead vocalist in Play the Game at a new Cabaret/Nite Club - The Velvet Rope for Aerial Angels.

THANK YOU Global Dance!

DUO & TRIO SECTION CLARIFICATION

In regards to the adjudication against different styles of dance within the one section, the true purpose of a duo or trio is to determine the synchronisation between dancers, their timing together, fluidity as a pair or trio & execution of the choreography. Each genre is working towards the same purpose with achieving these concepts & goals as a duo or trio. A skilled adjudicator will be looking for these things to be achieved together on stage rather than just the style of dance being performed for them.
